POEM FREES WOMAN IN PRISON

Washington, July 11.—Moved by the pathetic poetical appeal of May E. Brown, who was convicted at Salt Lake City of inducing a 16-year-old girl to go to Pocatello, Idaho, for immoral purposes, and who was sentenced on June 20, 1911, to five years in prison, President Taft yesterday granted her a pardon. The trial judge and United States attorney endorsed the woman's plea for clemency, the first granted in a white slave case.

In making her appeal to the president, the woman sent the following poem:
Oh, Mr. President, most exalted in the land,
To you I now appeal, for you hold my freedom in your hands,
Not for myself, I humbly plead,
But a little child my love and care doth need.
On childhood, shadows leave their sad impression;
Oh, save my boy from life's most bitter lesson.
Give me another chance, just one more, I pray,
And with the help of God I'll put the past away.

My very soul I open wide,
Nothing therein do I hide,
Temptation sought and found me
And I made mistakes, I know;
But, oh! be merciful, and your compassions show.
Of Him who all things knows and sees
I ask this boon, down on my knees,
Punishment never changed one's heart.
Only by repentance can all sinfulness depart.

God gives to us forgiveness at any time the heart repents.
Then why should man hold fast when God himself relents?
And why the waiting through the weary years so long
If God's decree be right, then surely man's is wrong.

May E. Brown and Herbert Gould were convicted in Salt Lake in June, 1911, on a charge of violating the "white slave" law. It was alleged by the prosecution that, in February, 1911, Gould, assisted by May Brown, induced Cora E. Frohm of Salt Lake to go to Pocatello for immoral purposes.

During the trial of the case the woman won the sympathy of the court officers, as she was ill and evidently under the influence of Gould in committing the offense. She was sentenced to serve five and one-half years in the Kansas penitentiary at Lansing and Gould received a sentence of seven years in the federal prison at Leavenworth.

Shortly after her arrival at the penitentiary she was forced to undergo a dangerous operation and since that time has been confined to the prison hospital. She was released upon the recommendation of H. E. Booth, United States district attorney, and Judge Morris, the trial judge of the case.

APOSTLE IVINS GOES TO MEXICO

Apostle Anthony W. Ivins of the Mormon church, wired to President Joseph F. Smith yesterday from Enterprise in southern Utah to the effect that he was leaving for Mexico on the first train. Apostle Ivins was on an official business trip through the southern part of the state when he learned of the grave crisis that has arisen in the Mexican colonies at Mexico. He proceeded at once to Modeno on the Salt Lake route and, according to the telegram, is now en route to El Paso, Texas, from which place he will cross into the troubled territory.

President Smith also received a message yesterday from O. P. Brown at El Paso. Mr. Brown is the official Mormon agent in Mexico. He confirmed the report concerning the outrages being committed by the federal forces in Sonora and stated that he would leave today for Colonia Morelos, the colony which is in greatest danger at present.

"We believe the worst of the trouble to be over," said Apostle C. W. Penrose last night. "The Mexican government has been advised from Washington in the uncertain terms that American citizens must be protected and further outrage on the part of the federal forces is hardly likely."

The first presidency has wired the leaders of the Mormon settlers, advising them to use all due prudence to break and to keep accurate account of all losses suffered at the hands of Mexicans so that claims for damages can be rightfully presented to the Mexican government.

RIO GRANDE PLANS INCREASE SAFETY

E. L. Brown, vice president of the Denver & Rio Grande, has just sent out all along the line circular No. 33 which tells of a safety organization that has just been formed among the employees of that company. It consists of a central safety committee, division committees and shop committees and its purpose is to correct conditions, customs and practices that contribute to casualties.

The idea of the vice president is to eliminate a large number of the causes of these by working with all of the employees and in this way minimize the risk to the public and to the employees of the system. "Safety comes first," is an emphatic order, and the employees are warned to report unsafe conditions, customs and practices that they observe, or to which they have knowledge, and thus protect themselves, their families, fellow employees and the public.

The members of the different committees come from every department that has anything to do with the safety of any one on the road. All of the committee members will be supplied with neat label buttons of appropriate design and any one interested should feel at liberty to approach any one wearing such a button at any time and to report to him any dangerous condition or to make reasonable suggestions regarding the safety of those on the road.

PROMOTE SAFETY ON SHORT LINE

Two bulletins have just been issued by the operating department of the Oregon Short Line, both having to do with the organization of safety committees for the prevention of accidents and injuries to employees. Bulletin No. 1 consists of a letter from W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line. In the letter to the employees Mr. Bancroft points out that a great deal has already been done by the management and by the employees but in spite of this accidents continue to occur. He commends the safety committee plan and says that by inaugurating it the company hopes to carry on the campaign to avoid accidents and injuries to men in the service.

The safety committees will consist of a central committee, which includes most of the executive officers of the company, and a committee on each division of the road. In this way all of the departments are represented and every one along the road will have an opportunity to present any plan that he may have that will tend to lessen the danger on the road.

A similar plan has just been adopted by the Denver & Rio Grande and has been in vogue with the Pennsylvania lines and the Illinois Central for some time.

UTAH ELKS AT MASK CARNIVAL

Portland, Ore., July 11.—Utahns at the Elk convention here were a part of the 20,000 Elks who participated in a Chinook salmon barbecue at the Oaks amusement park here yesterday afternoon and they were a part of the 200,000 persons who participated in a masked carnival on the streets last night. Manager Collins of the party succeeded in getting most of his followers together early and they were in a body in Indian file in the masked carnival. The entire delegation, women as well as men, marched through the streets to the music of the bands. The streets were veritable tunnels of hilarity.

Following the parade the Utahns disbanded and enjoyed the varied forms of fun, which kept the streets in an uproar until nearly morning. Arrangements have been made for the Utah party to march in a body in the Elks parade today. They have a large number of attractive leaflets printed and will scatter them broadcast along the line.

PITTSBURG BUYS MENSOR

Eddie Mensor, crack outfielder of the Portland Northwestern league team, has been sold to the Pittsburgh Nationals for $3,000. Immediate delivery is required. The money has not yet been turned over, but Mensor will leave for the east within a few days. Mensor is regarded as the most valuable man in the Northwestern league and his loss will be a severe blow to the Portland Colts' pennant chances. It is reported that McCredie will turn over Mahoney, outfielder secured from Sacramento through trade to Nick Williams for his second string team. Mensor was "tipped off" to Pittsburgh by Umpire Van Halgren, who acts as scout for the Pirates.

An old bachelor says it takes more than a porous plaster to relieve the pain generated by observing a 200-pound girl trying to act cute.

For Age-Marred Skins and Dull, Streaky Hair

Fine lines and that aged condition of the skin are caused by pore-clogging powders and creams. These should be discarded for a spumax lotion, which is made by adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine to 1-2 pint witch hazel (or hot water), then 4 ounces of spumax. This lotion protects the skin against the ravages of sun and wind, removes tan, freckles, oiliness and other upsets, and though invisible when on, lends an indefinable charm to the complexion.

An invigorating and pleasing shampoo for the heated term can be had by dissolving a teaspoonful canthox in a cup of hot water. This creates an abundance of rich, cleansing lather, which is a positive benefit to any scalp and hair. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly and evenly, with a brilliance and silky softness truly charming. Canthox shampoos tend to restore the natural color to faded hair and overcome "stringiness."

Special 25-cent rate to Lagoon and return, via Bamberger Electric, daily, from both Salt Lake and Ogden, commencing 7 p. m. week days and 1 p. m. Sundays.
